CAMPAIGN FINANCE GUIDE OVERVIEW

This publication has been prepared by the Rio Rancho City Clerk to be used as a guide for the reporting of contributions and expenditures made in conjunction with the 2022 Municipal Officer Election.

Municipal campaign finance reporting is governed by the City of Rio Rancho Election and Campaign Practices Ordinance and portions of the Code of Conduct.

A digital copy of the Election and Campaign Practices and Code of Conduct can be accessed via the links below:

Rio Rancho Election and Campaign Practices

Rio Rancho Code of Conduct

Please feel free to contact the Office of the City Clerk at 505-891-5004 or via email to clerk@rrnm.gov. Information can also be obtained via the City Clerk's website at <https://rrnm.gov/1806/2022-Election>

Please note - This guide provides applicable references to campaign finance provisions; however, the contents are not intended to serve as legal guidance on federal, state or local law.

CAMPAIGN FINANCE REPORTING

Per the Municipal Code, all contributions and expenditures made in conjunction with a Rio Rancho municipal election must be reported. During the election, campaign finance reports shall be filed according to the schedule below. These filings are in addition to other reporting requirements prompted by financial activity outside of this timeframe, as explained in detail here within.

DEFINITIONS

The following terms are defined in Section 30.21 R.O. 2003, and are provided in this guide as a convenience to be used for the reporting of campaign finance activity.

Anonymous Contribution A contribution received by a candidate or campaign committee for which the contributor cannot be identified.

Ballot Question Any question, proposition, or measure submitted to a vote at an election, or circulated for the purposes of submission to a vote at any election, whether or not the proposed question qualifies for the ballot.

Campaign Advertisement A communication, announcement or other material referring to a candidate or ballot question that is published, disseminated, distributed or displayed to the public by print, broadcast, cable or electronic media, satellite, including a circular, pamphlet, letter, poster, billboard or other printed, written, radio, television, internet or telephone advertisement.

Campaign Finance Report A report of all contributions received, and expenditures made subscribed and sworn to by a candidate, campaign committee officer or leader or campaign treasurer.

Candidate Any individual listed on the ballot for election to any municipal office or any person who otherwise has taken affirmative action to seek election to a City of Rio Rancho municipal office, such as filing a declaration of candidacy, soliciting or accepting contributions or making expenditures, even if not ultimately listed on the ballot.

Campaign Committee Any combination of two or more persons acting jointly for the principal purpose of supporting or opposing the election of a candidate or the adoption or defeat of one or more ballot questions.

Candidate Campaign Committee A committee consisting of the candidate, campaign treasurer and any other individual designated and authorized to raise, collect or expend contributions on behalf of the candidate for the purpose of electing the candidate to office.

Contribution A gift, subscription, loan, advance, deposit, pledge, proceeds of a fundraising event, contract, agreement or promise of money, service or anything of value or other obligation, made directly or indirectly to a candidate or campaign committee.

Coordinated Expenditure An expenditure made by a person, organization or entity, other than a candidate or the candidate's campaign committee, at the request or suggestion of, or in cooperation or consultation with a candidate, a representative of a candidate or the candidate's campaign committee for the purpose of either supporting or opposing a candidate, or paying for a campaign advertisement that refers to a clearly identified candidate and is published or distributed to the City of Rio Rancho electorate within sixty (60) days before the election.

Election Any regular or special City of Rio Rancho municipal election. For the purpose of campaign finance reporting requirements, this term shall include a general election or regular local election for which the certified ballot contains a ballot question adopted by the City of Rio Rancho Governing Body pursuant to NMSA 1978 § 1-16-3.

Expenditure A payment, pledge or promise of payment or money for anything of value or other obligation in exchange for goods, materials, services, facilities or anything of value for the purpose of either supporting or opposing a candidate, or the adoption or defeat of one or more ballot questions.

Independent Expenditure Any person, organization, or entity that expends five hundred dollars ($500) or more in the aggregate within sixty (60) days before an election to pay for any form of campaign advertisement which advocates for the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate or adoption or defeat of a clearly identified ballot question, or refers to a clearly identified candidate or ballot question and which is disseminated to the City of Rio Rancho electorate regarding an election in which the candidate or ballot question is on the ballot. This definition does not include coordinated expenditures, nor does it relate to a nonpartisan voter guide containing candidate questionnaires or ballot question information that does not advocate for or against a candidate or ballot question.

In-Kind Contribution Goods, materials, services, facilities or anything of value other than money that is donated, contributed or expended at no cost or at a cost less than the fair market value. This does not include the value of services, unreimbursed travel or other personal expenses of unpaid volunteers.

Person Any individual or organization acting in support of or in opposition to a candidate or to the adoption or defeat of one or more ballot questions.

Reporting Individual A candidate, campaign committee, or campaign treasurer of a campaign committee, and City of Rio Rancho elected officials.

Statement of No Activity A statement filed in lieu of a campaign finance report when a reporting individual has not received contributions or made expenditures for the reporting period for which a campaign finance report comes due.

CAMPAIGN REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS

All individuals or entities who fall under the definition of a candidate, a non-candidate campaign committee, or whose activities constitute an independent expenditure must fulfill the registration and reporting requirements of the Election and Campaign Practice regulations of the city.

Who is considered a candidate?

Any individual listed on the ballot for election to any municipal office or any person who otherwise has taken affirmative action to seek election to a City of Rio Rancho municipal office, such as filing a declaration of candidacy, soliciting or accepting contributions or making expenditures, even if not ultimately listed on the ballot.

When and how does the reporting process start for candidates?

Within seven (7) days of soliciting or accepting contributions or making expenditures or January 4, 2022 (whichever occurs first), each candidate shall file a Candidate Campaign Committee form with the City Clerk.

Within seven (7) days of soliciting or accepting contributions or making expenditures or January 11, 2022 (whichever occurs first), each write-in candidate shall file a Candidate Campaign Committee form with the City Clerk.

A Candidate Campaign Committee shall register on a form provided by the City Clerk, to include: Candidate Campaign Committee Registration Form

- The name, street address, telephone number, and email address of the candidate's campaign committee;
- Designated Campaign Treasurer information - name, street address, telephone number, and email address, and
- The name and street address of the financial institution where the candidate's bank account is established.

What is a campaign committee?

Any combination of two or more persons acting jointly for the principal purpose of supporting or opposing the election of a candidate or the adoption or defeat of one or more ballot questions.

How does the reporting process begin for non-candidate Campaign Committees?

Within seven (7) days of formation, but in no case later than the date on which a committee initiates the dissemination of campaign advertisement, each committee shall file a Campaign Committee form with the City Clerk to include: Campaign Committee Registration Form

- The name, street address, telephone number, and email address of the campaign committee;

- The name, street address and telephone number of each firm, association, partnership, business trust, corporation, company, committee, and any other organization or group of individuals which the campaign committee is affiliated or with which it coordinated or cooperated in its efforts to support or defeat a candidate or ballot question;
- The name, street address, telephone number and title of each officer or responsible leader;
- The purpose for which the committee was organized;
- Designated campaign treasurer information - name, street address, telephone number, and email address of the campaign treasurer, and
- The name and street address of the financial institution where the campaign committee's bank account is established.

CAMPAIGN TREASURER

Every candidate and campaign committee must designate a treasurer for the campaign. The treasurer is responsible for receiving contributions, authorizing disbursements and maintaining a true and complete record of the campaign finances and anything of value. In addition to the candidate or officer(s) of a campaign committee, the treasurer is equally accountable for the reporting of all campaign finances.

Can a candidate serve as a campaign treasurer?

Yes, a candidate may serve as campaign treasurer to their own campaign committee.

CAMPAIGN BANK ACCOUNT

Every candidate or campaign committee who collects contributions are required to set up a separate bank account for their campaign committee funds. Campaign contributions shall never be used as personal funds by a candidate or committee.

The name and street address of the financial institution where the bank account is established shall be disclosed on a Campaign Committee Registration Form. This information is due upon registration of the campaign committee with the City Clerk.

Please note: While this is becoming increasingly uncommon, a financial institution may ask for proof that the bank account is purposed for the election of a candidate or campaign committee. If this occurs, please contact the City Clerk at 505-891-5004 and we will be happy to speak with the institution to provide clarification.

How do I report changes to the information provided on the registration forms?

All changes to the registration information of any campaign committee shall be reported to the City Clerk within seven (7) days of such change.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Each candidate and campaign committee are required to disclose every contribution received for their campaign, regardless of how far in advance of the election it was solicited and/or received. Here are some tips for compliance with the campaign finance reporting requirements:

- Report all information required for each contribution, regardless of whether it is monetary, in-kind or a coordinated expenditure – Unknown or N/A is not acceptable;
- Ensure the contribution limit is not exceeded for a reporting period, or in aggregate;
- Do not accept anonymous contributions;
- If an anonymous contribution is unintentionally received by the campaign, dispose of it as required, and
- Keep detailed records of all contributions for the entire retention period.

What is a contribution?

A gift, subscription, loan, advance, deposit, pledge, proceeds of a fundraising event, contract, agreement or promise of money, service or anything of value or other obligation, made directly or indirectly to a candidate or campaign committee.

What information must be recorded for a contribution?

- Date received;
- Name and Address of contributor;
- Amount;
- Type of contribution – check, cash, credit card or in-kind;
- Purpose;
- If an in-kind contribution, in the amount column, indicate the actual or estimated fair market value, when the actual value is not available;
- Cumulative contributions over $50, when contributor is an individual, the principal business or occupation of the individual;
- Cumulative contributions over $50, when contributor is an entity, the owners of the entity;
- The aggregate total of all contributions for the reporting period;
- The aggregate total of all contributions received by the campaign to date, and
- For any cumulative contribution of $1,000 or more, including in-kind, the name and address of the employer of the contributor.

I received contributions prior to submitting a declaration of candidacy. Do I need to report this information?

Yes, any contribution received or expenditure made by or on behalf of an individual prior to the filing of a declaration of candidacy, or by or on behalf of a campaign committee at any time must be reported.

What date do I report as the received date for contributions?

A contribution is considered received on the date the contribution was given to the campaign, not the date the funds were deposited into the campaign bank account.

When a contribution is given via an electronic transaction or fundraising platform, such as PayPal, Donorbox, etc., the date the contributor authorized the electronic transfer of funds shall be reported as the received date.

The date goods or services are provided to a campaign shall be reported as the date received for in-kind contributions.

CONTRIBUTION LIMITS

There are limits to the total contribution amount a candidate or campaign committee can receive from any one person, organization, entity, or campaign committee for an election. These limits apply to all contribution categories, with the exception of loans made by a candidate to their own campaign and independent expenditures.

Contribution Limits

- Citywide Races – $5,000: Mayor, Municipal Judge or Citywide Ballot Question(s)
- Districted Races – $3,000: City Councilor

Who is subject to the contribution limit?

Everyone must observe the contribution limit, to include family members and friends of the applicable candidate or campaign committee. The only exception to the limitation is a candidate who chooses to use personal funds to finance their own campaign.

An individual or entity may contribute multiple times to a candidate or campaign committee, however the aggregate contribution amount during the election cycle cannot exceed the above-referenced contribution limits. Once a contributor has met the contribution limit threshold, they shall not be allowed to make further contributions to the applicable candidate or campaign committee.

Contributions are reported on an individual basis, so it is the responsibility of the reporting candidate or campaign committee to verify the contributions from any one person or entity does not exceed the contribution limit.

What do I do if someone contributes more than the allowable amount?

Any contribution in excess of the contribution limit shall be returned to the original contributor as soon as the error is found.

If the contribution was already deposited into the campaign bank account, the contribution return shall be recorded on the campaign finance report for that reporting period, as an expenditure to the original contributor. A notation that the contribution was in excess of the limit must be recorded in the purpose section as well.

If the contribution in excess is identified in the presence of the original contributor, simply give the funding back to the individual. Under this scenario there is no need to record the transaction on the campaign finance report.

As a candidate, can I contribute to my own campaign?

Yes, you are allowed to use personal funds to finance your campaign. There are two ways this funding can be reported on the campaign finance report.

1. As a loan, which will allow a reimbursement or repayment of the funds to the candidate, or
2. As a contribution, which will be considered a gift and, therefore is not reimbursable or repayable.

*Do not list the use of personal funds as both a loan and a contribution.

Is there anyone who I should not accept a contribution from?

Please review the Code of Conduct, subsections E and F of 39.09 R.O. 2003 for applicability:

CONFLICT OF INTEREST, DISCLOSURE.

(E) Elected officials, appointed officials, and employees shall not solicit or receive gifts, personal benefits, favors, gratuities or political or charitable contributions, or anything of value under circumstances that create a reasonable belief that special access, services, favors, or official or unofficial actions will be provided as a result. Nor may anything of value be solicited or received from a person or business doing business with the city, contracting with the city, regulated by the city, has an application pending before the city, or whose interests may be affected by the city.

(F) Elected officials, appointed officials, and employees shall not accept anything of value from a person, business, or other entity when the elected official, appointed official, or employee knows or reasonably should know that said person, business, or entity does any business with the city, desires to do business with the city, contracts with the city, is regulated by the city, has an application pending before the city, or whose interests may be affected by the city.

IN-KIND CONTRIBUTIONS

What is an in-kind contribution?

Goods, materials, services, facilities or anything of value other than money that is donated, contributed or expended at no cost or at a cost less than the fair market value.

*This does not include the value of services, unreimbursed travel or other personal expenses of unpaid volunteers. However, paid volunteers shall be reported as an expenditure. Volunteers paid for by someone other than the candidate or campaign committee shall be reported as an in-kind contribution.

How do I report an in-kind contribution?

In-kind contributions shall be disclosed on the campaign finance report for the reporting period they were received, and in the amount of the actual value of the contribution. When the actual value is not available, an estimate of the fair market value of the contribution shall be used.

Each in-kind contribution shall be entered as both a contribution and expenditure, and include a detailed description of the good or service provided.

*In-kind contributions are subject to the contribution limit.

Examples of in-kind contributions are as follows:

- A coffee shop owner provides a candidate campaign with breakfast burritos on Election Day at no charge.
- Campaign signs are printed at no charge by the owner of a print shop.
- Social media advertising is provided by a supporter at a discounted cost.
- A property management firm provides an office in a strip mall to a campaign committee for the duration of the election, only charging the cost of utilities to use the space.

ANONYMOUS CONTRIBUTIONS

What makes a contribution anonymous?

A contribution received by a candidate or campaign committee for which the contributor cannot be identified.

Anonymous contributions shall not be accepted by the campaign. If received unknowingly, the anonymous contribution shall be deposited in the City of Rio Rancho's General Fund or given to a registered 501(c)(3) charity by the candidate or campaign committee.

The City Clerk's Office will assist with the deposit of anonymous contributions into the city's General Fund. The contribution should be hand-delivered to the Clerk's Office in a form payable to the City of Rio Rancho during normal business hours. Once deposited a receipt reflecting the transaction will be provided for your records.

When giving an anonymous contribution to a registered 501(c)(3) charity, obtain and keep a receipt of the deposit for your records.

Anonymous contributions shall be recorded on the campaign finance report as follows:

1. Under the contribution section record the dollar amount and date received, along with a notation "anonymous" in the purpose section.

2. Under the expenditure section, record the exact amount reflected under contributions, along with the date the funds were disposed of. Under the purpose section, include a notation of either General Fund or the name of the registered 501(c)(3) charity where the funds were given to.
3. A record of the deposit should be retained in the event the transaction is questioned.

Do I need to submit a report if I don't raise or expend any money?

Yes, a statement of no activity shall be filed instead of a campaign finance report when a candidate or campaign committee has not received contributions or made expenditures for any given reporting period. The statement shall be filed by the same deadlines as a campaign finance report. Statement of No Activity Form

Likewise, a Campaign Finance Declaration Form must be filed by each candidate or campaign committee that receives either contributions or expenditures equaling less than two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) instead of a campaign finance report for the reporting period.

EXPENDITURES

Each candidate and campaign committee is required to disclose every expenditure made for their campaign. Here are some tips for compliance with the campaign financial reporting requirements:

- Report all information required for each expenditure – Unknown or N/A is not acceptable;
- Ensure expenses are made for campaign purposes only! Ask yourself, “would this expense exist even if the campaign committee didn’t?”;
- Obtain detailed receipts for each purchase or expenditure;
- Ensure that the total amount of campaign expenditures does not exceed the total amount of campaign contributions, and
- Keep detailed records of all expenditures for the entire retention period.

What is an expenditure?

A payment, pledge or promise of payment or money for anything of value or other obligation in exchange for goods, materials, services, facilities or anything of value for the purpose of either supporting or opposing a candidate, or the adoption or defeat of one or more ballot questions.

How do I report expenditures?

All expenditures leading up to the next reporting period must be disclosed on a campaign finance report, to include:

- Date expenditure made;
- Amount;
- Purpose – include enough detail to associate the expense with the campaign;
- If record is to reflect an in-kind contribution, indicate the actual or estimated value, when the actual value is not available as;
- Cumulative expenditures over $50, the name, street address of individual or entity the expenditure was made to;
- The aggregate total of all expenditures for the reporting period;
- The aggregate total of all expenditures made by the campaign to date, and
- Coordinated expenditures shall be reflected as explained below.

What do I report as the date of an expenditure?

The date the disbursement was made by the candidate or campaign committee shall be recorded as the date of expenditure.

As a candidate, how do I get reimbursed for campaign expenses made with my personal funds?

Candidates who make campaign expenditures with their personal funds can obtain reimbursement from the campaign committee, but each expenditure MUST be itemized, and all the information required on the campaign finance report must be provided.

A lump sum payment to a credit card, instead of reporting each expenditure is not allowed.

COORDINATED EXPENDITURE

What is a coordinated expenditure?

An expenditure made by a person, organization or entity, other than a candidate or the candidate's campaign committee that meets each of the following:

1. is at the request or suggestion of, or in cooperation or consultation with a candidate, a representative of a candidate or the candidate's campaign committee;
2. for the purpose of either supporting or opposing a candidate, or paying for a campaign advertisement that refers to a clearly identified candidate;
3. is published or distributed to the City of Rio Rancho electorate for an election in which the candidate is on the ballot, and
4. is made within sixty (60) days before the election – December 31, 2021.

Coordinated expenditures shall be reflected as an in-kind contribution on the campaign finance report immediately after the expense occurs:

1. An entry under the contribution section shall be made with all required information, and
2. An entry under the expenditure section shall also be made with all required information.

Coordinated expenditures are subject to the contribution limitations.

If a coordinated expenditure benefits more than one candidate, each candidate is responsible for reporting the portion of the expenditure that benefited their campaign.

INDEPENDENT EXPENDITURES

What is an independent expenditure?

An expenditure made by any person, organization, or entity that meets each of the following:

1. totals five hundred dollars ($500) or more in the aggregate;
2. is made within sixty (60) days before an election – December 31, 2021;
3. for the purpose of paying for any form of campaign advertisement which advocates for the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate or adoption or defeat of a clearly identified ballot question, or refers to a clearly identified candidate or ballot question;
4. is disseminated to the City of Rio Rancho electorate for an election in which the candidate or ballot question is on the ballot, and
5. is not made at the request or suggestion of, or in cooperation or consultation with a candidate, a representative of a candidate or the candidate's campaign committee.

*This definition does not include coordinated expenditures, nor does it relate to a nonpartisan voter guide containing candidate questionnaires or ballot question information that does not advocate for or against a candidate or ballot question.

Each person, organization or entity who has made independent expenditures exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or more in the aggregate during an election shall register with the City Clerk within seven (7) days of meeting such monetary threshold.

In no case shall the registration occur later than the date on which the dissemination of the campaign advertisement financed by the independent expenditure was initiated.

Independent Expenditure Registration Form

The registration form required shall include:

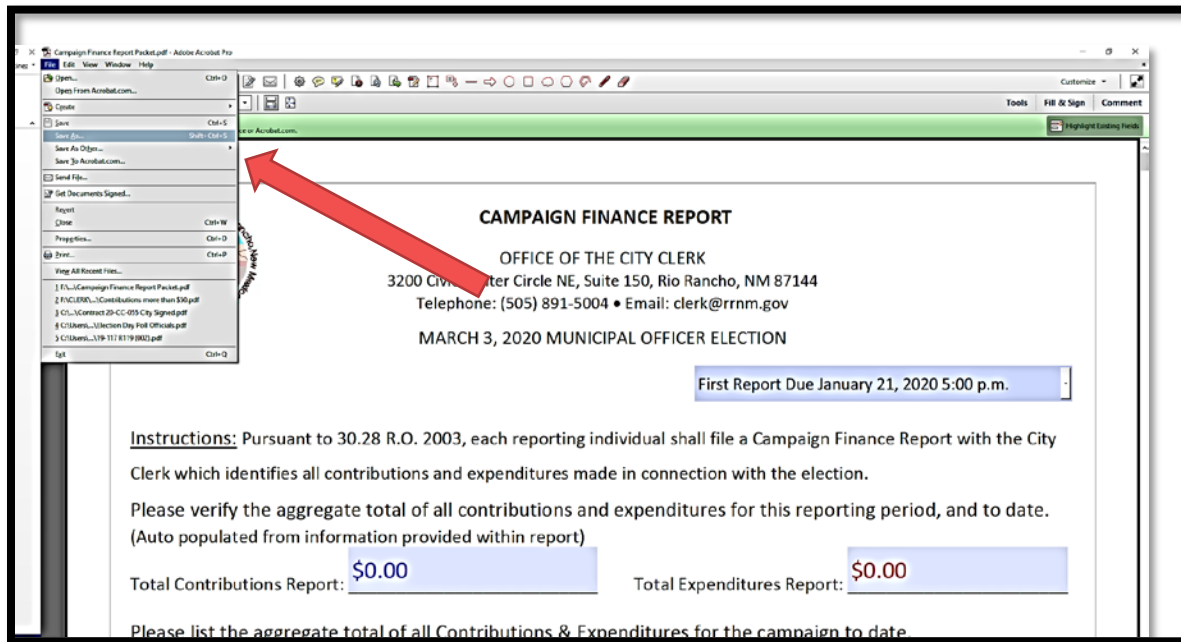

- The name and street address of the person, organization or entity who made the independent expenditure;
- The name and street address of the person, organization or entity who the independent expenditure was made to;
- The date, amount and purpose for each independent expenditure, and
- The name and street address of each person, organization or entity who provided any cumulative contribution exceeding two hundred dollars ($200) to fund any independent expenditure;

Any additional independent expenditures made by the person, organization or entity shall be reported in the same manner as provided above.

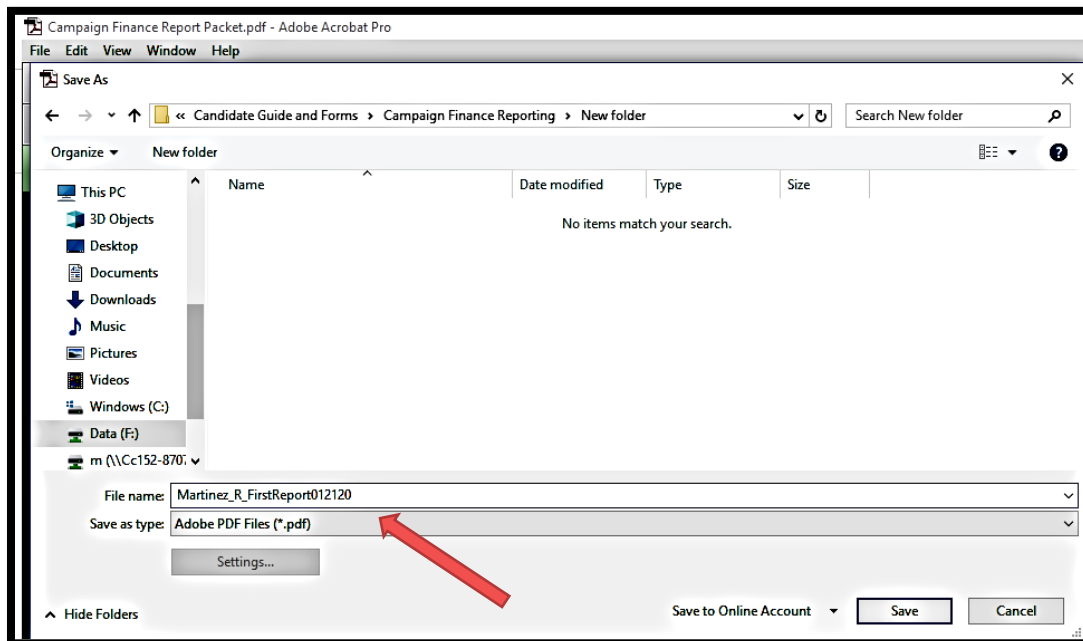

All campaign advertisements paid for by an independent expenditure shall include a statement including the words "paid for by" followed by the name of the person, organization or entity who made the independent expenditure.

AMENDING A CAMPAIGN FINANCE REPORT

If a candidate or campaign committee finds an error on a previously submitted report, please contact the City Clerk’s Office for instructions on how to make a correction.

When a contribution or expenditure was mistakenly not included on a report for the date range the transaction occurred, please report the activity on the next report due and provide a detailed explanation in the purpose section of the report.

CLOSING OUT A CAMPAIGN FINANCE ACCOUNT

All candidates and campaign committees are required to file campaign finance reports until the candidate or campaign committee files a final campaign finance report confirming the following:

- That there is no outstanding campaign debt;
- That all contributions have been expended pursuant to Subsection E of 30.28 R.O. 2003, and
- That the campaign bank account has been closed.

What do I do with any remaining contributions in my campaign bank account?

Any contributions not expended on the campaign shall be disposed in one of the following methods:

- retained in the campaign bank account for a possible run-off election for that office, a challenge to the election or for the candidate's use in a future City of Rio Rancho municipal election;
- returned to the person, organization or entity who made the contribution;
- placed in the City of Rio Rancho's General Fund;
- given to a registered 501(c)(3) charity identified by the candidate; or
- donated to a candidate seeking election to a City of Rio Rancho municipal office.

NON-COMPLIANCE – PENALTIES

What will happen if I don't file a report by the deadline?

When a campaign finance report is filed after the deadline, a penalty of $10 per day for each regular working day after the deadline shall be assessed until the complete report is filed. The fine shall not exceed $500.

Any candidate who fails or refuses to file a campaign finance report or to pay a fine imposed shall not:

- be issued a Certificate of Election if the violation occurs after the date of the election, if declared the winner, or
- be permitted to file a declaration of candidacy for any future City of Rio Rancho municipal election until the candidate satisfies all reporting requirements and pays all fines owed.

*It is unlawful for a candidate or campaign treasurer to knowingly and willfully file a false report of expenditures and contributions.

RECORDS RETENTION

Each candidate, campaign committee, or campaign treasurer of a campaign committee shall keep a true and complete record of all campaign finance records for two (2) years after the date the election results were certified by the Canvassing Board, to include records of all contributions, in-kind contributions, anonymous contributions and expenditures, regardless of the amount, bank account records and statements, checks, bank deposit slips, receipts, leases and rental agreements, and all other finance records relevant to the campaign.

All campaign finance reports submitted to the City Clerk will be retained as required by the records retention schedule.
